Muslims believe in the divine scriptures revealed to various prophets, including the Torah (Tawrat), Zabur (Zabur), Injil (Injil), and the Quran, which is the final and most complete revelation.

Belief in the day of judgment.

Muslims believe in the final day of judgment when all individuals will be resurrected and held accountable for their deeds. The belief underscores the moral responsibility and the eternal consequences of one's actions.

Faith in the prophet hood

Q. What

prophet who is sent by Allah to mankind to convey his religious injunctions another name for the prophet hood is Nubuwwah

- All the prophets were human
  - He was a human being. Allah says.
  - They said: you are but men like us.
- Then messengers said unto them: we are but men like you.

They ate food and walked in the market we appointed for them wives and offspring.

Messenger to them he would have sent an angel and not someone who was similar to them in reply to this Allah revealed.

We never sent a messenger save with the language of his folk

Why it was so? To make the divine messenger clear to them.

that he might make the message clear for them

Nature of prophet hood.

Prophet hood is not something which can be acquired by effort. It is bestowed by Allah and is his special gift.

It is bestowed upon them only whom Allah chooses for this purpose.

Man's effort or intention has nothing to do with it.

Faith in the Afterlife

• one is required to accept wholeheartedly the following two truths the afterlife

- The life of man does not come to an end with his death

The world we are living in is not a friendly world

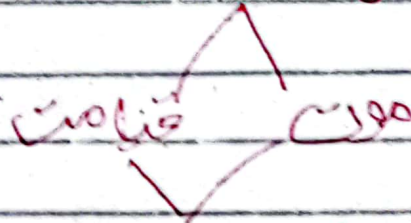

- Everyone is accountable
- where are the proud ones
- where are the Kings of this world.

Below is Destruction

Allah say "I am the King"

•  $\text{أنا الله لا اله الا أنا العليم الغني}$

2 Realities.
